

The Great Ramayana

Sacrifice of King Dasharata, the man of action
Earns God Vishnu and other's great satisfaction

Coming from the heavens, down to Earth
To give great hero, Rama, his birth

Here comes samsara of Vishnu, ready to destroy
Ravana, the demon, the evil hell boy

Sadly, the wise king makes a mistake
Giving queen Kaikeyi promises that cannot break

Following the Queen's order
Rama says good-bye to his father

Obeying his dharma and going into the forest
With Lakshmana his brother and Sita his dearest

Oh, the death of the great king brings sadness
However Rama follows his path and keeps his sternness

Next comes Surpanakha, the ugly witch
But Rama, the man of good will, is hard to bewitch

The anger covers her whole body
Can't someone do the revenge for her? Anybody?

The wicked witch's last hope, Ravana comes to volunteer
Trying to get Sita alone, he changes into a beautiful deer

Rama and his brother warns Sita to be aware
But foolish Sita gets kidnapped, flying through the air

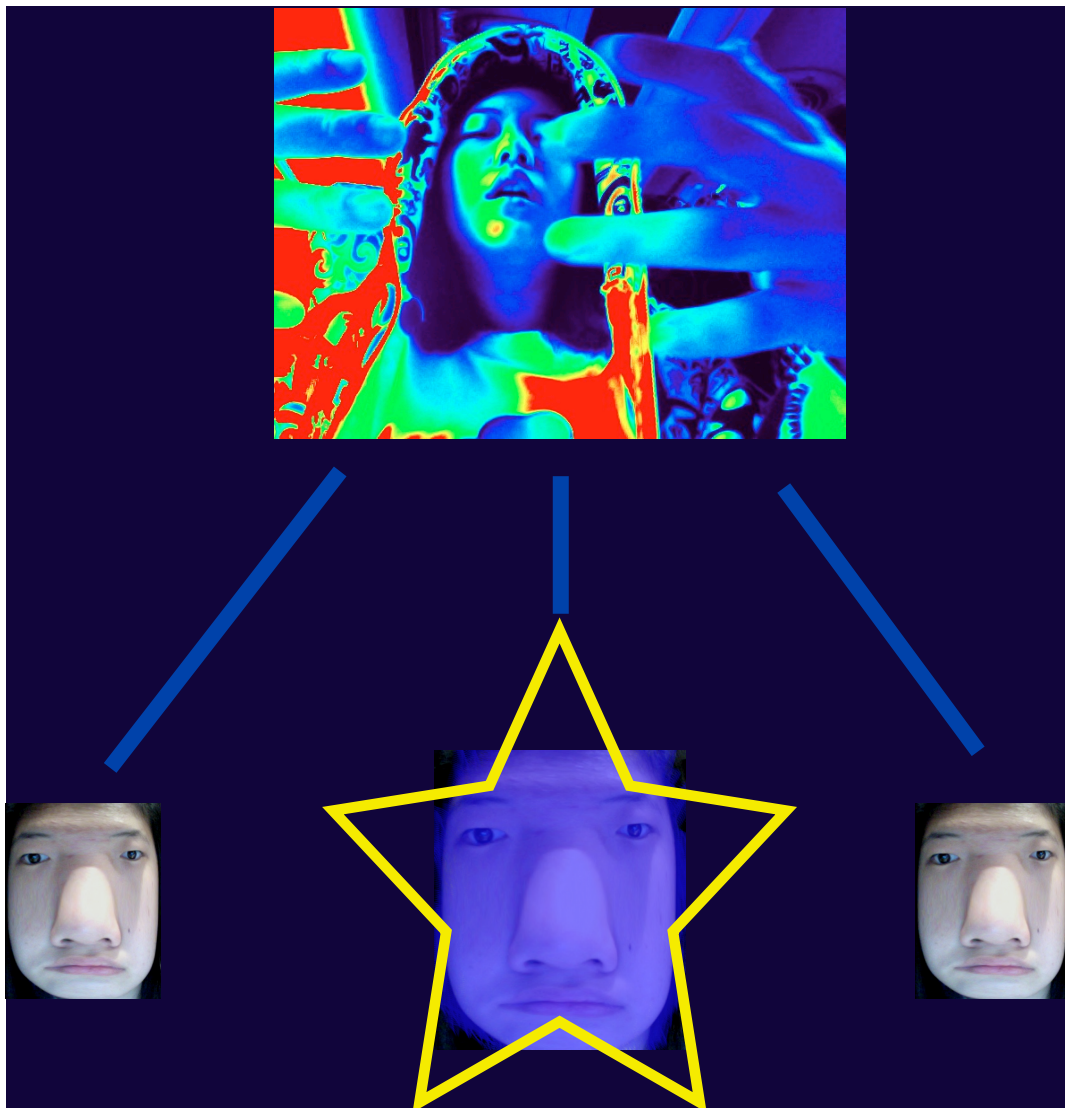

Now the great rescue of Rama will begin
Getting help from Jatayu and Hanuman, Rama knew he will win

The Great Ramayana

Our great hero finds the location of the palace
It was in Lanka, oozing out spite and malice

With his monkey warriors, Rama fights bravely with the devils
Lastly, he kills Ravana and gets Sita out from the house of devils

Ravana our hero, returns to the kingdom with a victory
And that's the end of this story.

Lord Vishnu and his three reincarnations